

LOUISA BOYD

Louisa Boyd's work centres around the persistent human desire to belong. She considers environmental issues in her pieces and how we connect with the natural world to navigate and to establish a sense of place.

Louisa is a multi-talented artist who works in printmaking, sculpture and painting. She started her professional arts career developing a series of paper sculptures that used bookbinding techniques to support their structures. These artist's books gained recognition with awards at the early stages in her career. She has since established a reputation producing a mixture of intricate etchings, screenprints, and collages that rely on sacred geometry for their structure using the elements of mathematics. More recently, she expanded into painting in acrylic & watercolour and has developed a distinct signature style of semi-abstract landscapes that give a sense of flowing harmony with nature.

Louisa's pieces are included in private and public collections worldwide and are recognised regularly through prestigious juried exhibitions. She has shown on a number of occasions at the Royal Academy Summer Exhibition and Woolwich Contemporary Print Fair and was awarded the Great Art Prize at the Flourish Award in 2020. In 2023, Louisa was invited to exhibit at 'Just Like Escher', at Escher in the Palace, The Netherlands, and she was awarded a scholarship from the Queen Elizabeth Scholarship Trust (QEST) to develop her practice.
